

It has been a pleasure to work with Scott. Over the course of 3 weeks, he has been able to get to know our young people; and develop and inspire both musical and lyrical creativity which has allowed them to arrive at a final product that they can be proud of. Song writing is a particularly challenging task, but Scott has made it fun and has delivered his workshops in a way that has been inclusive for all learners. A real insight into the professional world of composition and lyricism - thank you, Scott.
